

Germaine Moody

Germaine "Kingdomchild" Moody is the Chairman & CEO of the MoodTyme Corporation, an international conglomerate with present and upcoming business in real estate, publishing, food production, entertainment (music and film), travel, event services, retail, hospitality and broadcasting. Most notably is his work as the CEO of Germaine Moody Events, which in less than two years, Germaine has taken the event world by storm, becoming the leader of the global networking event movement, connecting business professionals from all industries in over 30 countries. His 2010 worldwide networking tour was the first of its kind, historic in numbers, global in influence and dominating by impact, garnering him a 2011 BizBash Magazine Reader's Choice Awards Nomination for "Event Producer Of The Year". The BizBash Awards ceremony will be held in Chicago on August 18, 2011. Several of his networking events have been used to collect non-perishable food items which are given to local food banks around the world to help end world hunger, one of his missions in life. Guests at Germaine's 2010 New York "The Biggest Networking Night Of The Year" event named him the "King of Networking".

Speaking of awards, Germaine has served as a Co-Producer for the American Choreography Awards (now Choreography Media Honors) in Los Angeles, honoring the best in dance and choreography in Motion Pictures, Episodic Television and Music Videos. He currently remains a Co-Producer for the Chicago Music Awards, now his third year, which honors Chicago music industry natives such as Kanye West, Jennifer Hudson, Smashing Pumpkins, Jeremih, Chaka Khan, R. Kelly, Albertina Walker and more.

An aggressive and consummate businessman, in June 2011 Germaine launched an innovative chocolate company called "The Chocolate Business Cards", a ground-breaking venture he shares with Australian international businessman John Taylor that produces customized chocolate business cards and products perfect for networking, customer appreciation, special events, gift-giving and high-end marketing. The Chocolate Business Cards will launch in India, Japan, Netherlands, Pakistan and the UK this Fall. Just recently entered a partnership to launch his own global coffee brand in 2012 called "Precision Blends International Coffees".

A musician, artist, producer and songwriter by passion, after the recent March 11, 2011 Japan earthquake and tsunami, Germaine wrote and composed the song "Not By Yourself" and has since turned it into an historic international fundraising effort. "Not By Yourself", located at www.notbyyourself.org, is an interactive music benefit for Japan earthquake and tsunami relief that includes a global soundtrack with songs from artists and composers around the world as well as a documentary film. The entire project will be submitted for the Grammys. Keeping philanthropy at the forefront of everything he does, Germaine was recently asked to join the Host Committee for the Boys & Girls Club star-studded "Cruise For A Cause" event in New York. The event will take place aboard the beautiful Cornucopia Majesty yacht on the Hudson River in September 2011 to benefit programs at the Boys & Girls Club locations in Lodi, Hackensack, Hawthorne and Garfield.

A writer by design, Germaine's first book "An Abundance of Person" Part 1 ("You were created from genius and born to greatness") is due in October 2011. In addition, he is currently writing a 365-day devotional entitled "Become Endless" and another book titled "The Networking Bible". Germaine will launch the membership-based "Become Endless" International Book Club online later this year around the world, which will focus on motivational, business and inspirational books.

Warren A. Huntley

“When a client walks into the room and their eyes and mouths speak... WOW...undeniably...the hardest part of our job is done!” Artist, Designer, Celebrity Party Planner, Writer, Instructor, Taste-maker and twenty-five (plus) year veteran of the Entertainment & Special Events Industry,

Warren A. Huntley, a Brooklyn, New York native who grew up in North Carolina knew early on that his destiny would be “creating lifestyles!”

From the moment you enter the room, life completely transforms...immersing you in all of the senses. The ambience created by just the right music, the wonder of breath-taking décor and the splendor of exquisite cuisine...exploring the essence of ordinary to extraordinary! Welcome to the world of Warren Huntley Presents! Impeccable staff, unpretentious elegance and an uncompromising attention to even the finest detail...we celebrate the art of all things entertaining!

From the awe of spectacular Weddings and trend-setting social events to red carpet Product Launches and the grandest of Galas...we leave no detail to chance, ensuring that we meet and surpass all of your expectations...each and every time! Thus attracting an impressive A-List of clientele from Atlanta’s social elite to nationally celebrated entertainment and sports personalities.

Whether selecting the perfect venue, designing one-of-a-kind florals, décor and lighting, providing transportation, creating menus, securing entertainment or simply designating a helping hand...we’re here every step of the way!

Come, Experience the art of wow!

Atlanta own Jimmy Jones

ATL2nite.com is Atlanta's most comprehensive listing of exclusive events. With over 71,000 current subscribers to our weekly newsletter, we are Atlanta's fastest growing database! We specialize in everything from nightclubs, lounges, happy hours, and private events, to networking events, concerts, jazz, open mic nights, comedy and performances. Our advertising clientele includes legal, political, real estate, insurance, medical and other professional industries as well.

Whose reading our weekly e-mail newsletter?

Demographics:

- 54% Women & 46% Men
- Average age range: 23 - 40
- 62% with four-year college degrees
- 18% with advanced & professional degrees
- 37% are homeowners
- Average Household Income (HHI) range: $50K - 60K

Specialties

Promotions, Marketing, Event Planning, Consulting, Street team

Demetria Mc Kinney

Demetria Mc Kinney is a river with many streams--singer, actress, model, songwriter, and dancer. Whether she is acting on stage to a sold out audience or a featured soloist at a major event, Demetria Continues to receive admiration with standing ovations from her performances. Due to the consistent display of her talents, she will certainly become one of tomorrow's brightest and most sought after stars.

Demetria attended college in FortWalton Beach, Florida, and has had extensive vocal training. She earned a leading role in Mark E. Swinton's "U Don't Know Me," the musical which received superb reviews. Her accomplishments read as a finely detailed map headed toward her destiny and showing the broad spectrum of her abilities. Demetria has a rich history with screenplay- writer and director, Tyler Perry. Ms. McKinney's list of accomplishments includes the role of "Janine" in Tyler Perry's TV sitcom, "House of Payne". Dee Dee embraced a vital role in the nationally renowned stage play, "Meet the Browns". Her journey continued with Mr. Perry on Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN) in a televised play production entitled "Madea's Christmas" which resulted in high ratings. In the DVD version of Tyler Perry's "Why Did I GetMarried", the starlet revived a significant role in the play. She also performed as the lead character "Brandy" in "Soul Kittens Cabaret".

In 2007, McKinney starred in award winning short film, "Standing Reign." Standing Reign was the five category award winning filmin the Atlanta 48 Hour filmfestival (Best Film, Best Acting, Best Screenplay, Best Delivery and Audience Award). It was also an official selection in the TOMI Film Festival of New Orleans, the Spaghetti Junction Urban Film Festival of Atlanta, the International Black FilmFestival of Nashville and is ranked top twenty films in the National 48 Hour Film Project.

In April 2008, Ms. McKinney and Tyler Perry's House of Payne was nominated for the 2008 Prism Award. Ms. McKinney was nominated for Performance in a Comedy Series and Tyler Perry's House of Payne was nominated and won the Prism Award for Comedy Series Multi-Episode Storyline. In July, Ms. McKinney starred in another award winning short film, "Before I Wake."

Demetria McKinney is a radiant, beautiful, diverse talent that is surely on the rise! Dee Dee has now stepped out in the spotlight again to present to the world another dimension of her talent...singing. She is making her world debut with her new singles, the beautiful ballad, "Stay," and the club smashing hit, "Love Whatcha Do." Look out for this rising talent's album to be released first quarter 2009.